

Dementia Awareness & End of Life Care

RHA Academy

RHA Academy is a wholly owned subsidiary of RHA International Holdings Pte Ltd and focuses on the delivery of Aged Care Education and Training programmes.

At RHA Academy, we believe in applied learning and have designed our facilities to support collaborative learning. RHA Academy seeks to nurture both healthcare and non-healthcare professionals who will, in turn, contribute towards Singapore's development.

Dementia Awareness

One in ten Singaporeans over the age of 60 suffers from Dementia. With an ageing population, the number of seniors with Dementia is increasing rapidly. This short workshop will focus on a basic introduction to Dementia and learning about the behaviours associated with Dementia.

Attendees will learn:

- What is Dementia?
- The behaviours associated with Dementia

The workshop will be delivered using group discussions and activities. It is suitable for anyone who would like to know more about this disease.

End-of-Life Care

The aim of this course is to provide participants with the basic knowledge of end-of-life care so that they may actively support patients or loved ones with life limiting conditions.

Attendees will learn to:

- Understanding Palliative Care and the dying process
- Give personal care and comfort in a Palliative Care setting

The workshop will be delivered using group discussions and activities. It is suitable for anyone who would like to know more about the End-of-Life Care or currently caring for one.

Programme Validation

The Curriculum for this course has been validated by the Kalandra Education Group, a registered training establishment with the New Zealand Qualifications Authority. This gives the course an international perspective.

Programme Duration: 1 day (9am - 5pm)

Programme Fees: $388.00 (inclusive of 7% GST)

RHA Academy will be offering Corporate Rates for this training programme. The date, time and location of the training can be planned in accordance to your company's needs.
